Where nature meets design.

At Greenmood, the Design Collection brings together biophilic beauty and acoustic performance through a series of handcrafted objects made with preserved natural moss and plants.

Each piece blends art, architecture, and nature, transforming walls, ceilings, and open spaces into living, sensory experiences, without the constraints of maintenance or watering.

Born from collaborations with leading designers such as Alain Gilles, the collection offers modular, timeless, and customizable solutions that soften spaces and enhance well-being in any environment — from offices and hotels to retail and residential interiors.
